We are a part of a European consortium (@scentinel_eu, website under construction) to develop cutting-edge genomics and bioinformatic tools and the successful candidate will have ample opportunity to network with the partners and thus broaden the scope of his/her research experience. We are affiliated with the Biology Department of the University of Crete, so the successful candidate will have the option to continue his/her graduate education in the Master or PhD programmes available.

About the project:

The present project aims to use cutting edge single-cell genomic approaches to characterize a neural cancer model and its microenvironment in adult Drosophila hosts. We are looking for an enthusiastic junior bioinformatician (Bachelor or Master degree) to implement FAIR data management, analyse single cell genomics datasets, and establish integrative pipelines.

S/he will work closely with Dr. V. Theodorou to implement and test project's pipelines, assess analyses results and will communicate regularly with experienced bioinformaticians from partners' institutes. S/he will additionally have the opportunity to travel and receive in-person excellent training in advanced bioinformatics.
